COMMITTEE ASKS MARTIN TO APPEAR

Norfolk, Va., September 9.—The feature of yesterday's session of Norfolk county primary election investigation was the request by the committee for the appearance of Alvah H. Martin, to explain profusion statements in a circular being distributed, in which the Republican national committeeman is alleged to have cited the recent fusion between Republicans and Democrats in Congress as an excuse for fusion in Norfolk county.

This circular was introduced by J. Lindsay Heard, counsel for the contestants, and was strongly objected to by the attorneys on the opposite side. It was also objected on the part of one of two members of the committee to summoning Mr. Martin to appear before a Democratic committee.

J. E. Hall, one of the alleged "straw candidates" for Treasurer, said he was a real candidate, and was anxious to be elected to the office. It is probable that the contestants will close their testimony Monday. It is also possible that the entire evidence may be in by that time, and that the last session will be Monday afternoon or Monday night.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. SUGAR FAMINE THREATENS

Housewives of the Valley Angry at Interference With Their Canning.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Winchester, Va., September 10.—Although it was Sunday, there was much activity to-day on the Winchester Fair grounds, where the forty-second annual exhibition of the Shenandoah Valley Agricultural Society will be held this week, beginning Tuesday and continuing until Friday evening. The directors have increased the premiums in all departments this year, and as a result there will be more exhibits than heretofore. Racing purses have also been increased to about $3,000, and horses have been entered in the various events from Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Georgia, South Carolina and the District of Columbia. Several days ago some people got busy with the Mayor and Chief of Police and requested the authorities to permit no games of chance on the grounds during the fair, and it was stated last evening after a meeting of the board of directors that no out-and-out gambling devices will be permitted, but that little and innocent games will not be molested. For many years the games of chance have appealed to women as well as men, and the booths of the fakirs have been among the chief drawing cards of the fair.

At the fifth annual meeting of the Anti-Saloon League of Frederick county, held a day or two ago at the Friends' meetinghouse at Hopewell, C. S. Cleveland was re-elected president. Several other officers were re-elected. Resolutions were adopted endorsing State-wide prohibition, a bill in Congress to regulate interstate shipments of liquor, larger education in the church and school of the effect of alcohol on the human system, and finally a strong protest to President Taft against the national government, through Cabinet officers or other Federal officials, taking any part in the annual convention of the Brewers' Association in Chicago next month.

J. J. Haggerty, who went from Winchester several years ago to make his headquarters in Hagerstown, Md., was one of the most picturesque "delegates" to the hobo convention in Washington last week, and while usually conservative in his views he rose to the occasion and said everything the Socialists tried to have passed. He was appointed timekeeper to call time on all the speakers, but invariably called time on all except himself. He asked that his name be recorded in the minutes as the "royal duke," and this was done. Haggerty made the defense of Roosevelt as the greatest of all Americans, when others tried to censure the ex-President.

The Millwood Improvement Association, which organized for the purpose of giving the town a new look, of Clarke county a thorough house-cleaning. The officers are Mrs. Hugh Nelson, president; Mrs. Henry B. Gilpin, vice-president, and Mrs. Graham F. Blandy, secretary and treasurer. Millwood is full of a good many of the progressive people of that section are of the opinion that these are not enough, and in order that the town may be kept clean and attractive at all times, a fund is being raised to employ one or more men to be on the job every day in the year.

According to wholesalers, a sugar famine is imminent in Winchester. Early last week the price went from 6 to 7 cents a pound, and yesterday it advanced to 8 cents. The shortage is due to the fact that the whole country is suffering from a shortage of sugar. The shortage is due to the fact that the whole country is suffering from a shortage of sugar.

An automobile driven by W. L. Black, of Hallowtown, Jefferson county, Va., crashed through the guard rail on a bridge near that place a few days ago, and the machine plunged into it all the four occupants, including J. S. Jones, a traveling salesman of Weston, Va., who was seriously injured. It is believed, however, that he will recover.

"Apple of the Valley," a catchy song, bringing all the fragrance and lushness of the fruit which has made the Valley of the Shenandoah almost as famous as Milwaukee, has recently been written by Miss Agnes Bell and Miss Mary Rieman Hack, of Winchester, who are receiving the commendation of some of the most noted musical men, who are giving the cheer heartiest encouragement and support. The song is being played and sung on the piers at Atlantic City, and has made a "hit" there.

The marriage of Miss Lula Mae Grim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Grim, of Winchester, to Lorenzo Jackson Williams, formerly of Shenandoah county, was solemnized a few evenings since at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. C. D. Taylor, pastor of Market Street Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating.

Cornelius Gibbons, son of C. M. Gibbons, the well-known Republican politician of Virginia, died of tuberculosis several days ago in Baltimore, where he had been living for the past ten years. He was forty-two years old. His remains were interred in Mount Hebron Cemetery, this city.

A largely attended meeting of the Berkeley County Horticultural Society was held at Inwood, W. Va., on Friday, and the principal address was made by S. B. Taylor, of Winchester, president of the Eastern Fruit Growers' Association. A recommendation made by him was adopted to the effect that no fruit in this section be sold for less than 2.55 a barrel, and that efforts be renewed to obtain lower shipping rates to the commercial centers. It was also pointed out that the fruit of this section is worth more than is being offered by some buyers, and that the grower runs no risks in insisting upon higher prices.

When a freight car, loaded with green lumber, jumped the track on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, near Hallowtown, the other afternoon, passengers who had left Washington about 4 o'clock for Winchester, intending to arrive shortly after 7 o'clock, were held up on the other side of the accident until after midnight, and there much fuming and swearing on the part of many who had been delayed and deprived of their supper. The railroad officials declared the accident was unavoidable, and that it was not possible to transfer passengers around the scene of the wreck.

While a party of young people were being entertained on a large veranda at the home of Samuel J. Swinley, Sr., at Brucetown one evening last week a large and ferocious-looking black snake suddenly emerged from a hole in the wall and proceeded to crawl across the porch floor, spreading terror among the women, who, gathering their skirts, fled from the scene amid much excitement. It remained for Mr. Swinley's son-in-law, Albert Clendenning, to catch the snake and chop the snake to pieces. It was fully six feet long.

R. H. Stebbins, member of a well-known family of Cross Junction, Frederick county, was bitten recently by a dog at Warren, Ohio, and has since gone insane. He has been taken to an Akron hospital for treatment. The dog was found to be afflicted with rabies, and was shot.

Backed by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Mayor Baker has ordered the police to be strict themselves and prosecute a vigorous warfare against the owners of horses which are regarded as unfit for service. Several days ago a liverly man was haled into court on the charge of hiring a team of horses which were found to have running sores on their backs. The horses were put to death.

Commander Louis McCoy Nulton, of Winchester, who was in command of the battleship Indiana on the recent cruise of the Naval Academy midshipmen, had the honor along with the commanders and officers of ships to dine recently with the Emperor of Germany on the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, at Kiel, and also with Princess Henry, a sister of Prince Henry, of Prussia, at her castle. Commander Nulton, who is a son of the late Colonel Joseph A. Nulton, of the old Second Virginia Regiment, is the author of several textbooks which are used at the Annapolis Academy.

Several people in Winchester and others in the county sections have mild cases of typhoid fever, and have believed they contracted the disease by drinking water that had been hauled in barrels to the recent camp meeting at Ridgeway, W. Va., which they attended. Dr. P. W. Boyd, secretary of the Winchester Board of Health, sent samples of water from the mains of this city to the State Health authorities at Richmond for examination, and he has a letter from Dr. Meade Ferguson to the effect that no traces of animal pollution had been found. In the three samples examined by him, and that the Winchester water is pure.

So beneficial have been the experiments made with oil on the streets by the Street Committee of the Common Council that a number of petitions have been presented by residents asking that other streets be oiled in order to abate the dust nuisance. It is expected that within a short time practically all the macadamized streets will be coated with oil.

William M. Grandstaff, a well-known resident of the Edinburg section of Shenandoah county, became mentally deranged recently, and when he had his head under the water in the Shenandoah River, he was from some imaginary enemy. He was almost drowned when taken out. The man endeavored to fight off those who had captured him, but he was finally landed in jail at Woodstock and held for the arrival of a guard. Several years ago he lost his mind and slashed his throat with a knife, inflicting a wound which nearly cost him his life.

When the Common Council met last week the members were much surprised when Treasurer G. H. Kinzel announced that he had no real estate to advertise for delinquent taxes, all having paid their realty taxes. The delinquent personal property tax, it was announced, is only a little more than $300. At the same meeting, W. H. Baker, the millionaire chocolate manufacturer of Winchester and New York, was re-elected president.

Jean Ritter, a meek looking young man of the county, was dismissed a few days ago by Justice Taylor, before whom he had been arraigned on the charge of threatening to burn the house and do bodily harm to his cousin, Miss Ann Ritter. The latter's mother testified that it was she who had sent for Jean to "come down" to the house, and that he had threatened to burn the house and do bodily harm to his mother, and Mrs. Ritter and many neighbors declared they would not believe Ann on oath. Young Ritter said he would heed the advice of the court to leave family quarrels alone.

BIG EXPOSITION WILL OPEN TO-DAY
Gates Open at Noon and Will Not Close for Three Weeks.

Knoxville, Tenn., September 10.—The second presentation of the Appalachian Exposition will be inaugurated in this city at noon to-morrow and will continue for three weeks, closing at midnight, September 30.

To-morrow's program includes the opening of the gates at noon and the formal introductory exercises, beginning with a mammoth pageant at 2 o'clock, to be followed by addresses by Governor B. W. Hooper, of Tennessee; Colonel L. D. Tyson, president of the Appalachian Exposition Company; and Mayor S. D. Heiskell, of Knoxville. At 9 o'clock to-morrow night Governor Hooper will address a mass-meeting of negroes at the negro building in the exposition enclosure.

The social feature of the opening day will be the formal dedication of "The Cup Inn," designed for the pleasure of young people.

The exposition is housed in eight spacious exhibit buildings, in which are shown products of the Appalachian region, which includes portions of eight States—Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky. These buildings present displays of manufactured products, mercantile enterprises, fine arts, minerals, forestry, agriculture, live stock, poultry, pet stock, women's work and the negro exhibit.

In addition to opening day events the program for the first week includes the horse show on the nights of September 12, 13 and 14, and live stock exhibit continuing throughout the week; Cleveland and Bradley county day on Tuesday; farmers' day on Thursday; press day, Friday, and Har- mon and Ohio days, Saturday. The address of Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio, on Saturday will be the feature of the program for that day.

During the remaining weeks of the exposition Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey; Colonel W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska; and Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, are expected to be present and make addresses. A series of women's addresses will begin September 21, with an address by Champ Clark, Speaker of the national House of Representatives. Colonel Bryan will be here September 22. Dates for Governor Wilson and Senator La Follette have not yet been announced.

The exposition this year bids fair to surpass in every material particular the exposition of 1910, and it is expected that the attendance and public interest will be correspondingly greater.

ACCIDENTAL VACCINATION
Young Woman Picks Her Teeth and Gums Get Sore.

Ludlow, Ky., September 10.—Physicians have sent Miss Josephine Brown, of Sadleville, to a Cincinnati hospital to be treated for "accidental vaccination."

The young woman several days ago "picked up a vicine point, thinking it was a toothpick, and picked her teeth with it." As a result, her gums became sore. A physician was called. He was puzzled. The young woman told him about picking her teeth. The physician asked to see the instrument used. Physicians at the hospital say the vaccination will take its course. The gums and throat are inflamed and swollen, which shows that the vaccination is "taking."

MAJOR LYNCH, RANKING COLORED OFFICER, RETIRED
As Paymaster in Army He Has Disbursed Several Million Dollars Without Loss of a Penny.

Washington, D. C., September 10.—Major John R. Lynch, the ranking colored officer in the army, and the only negro holding a commission in any of the staff departments of that establishment, closed his active military career yesterday. He will be sixty-four years old to-morrow, and on that account will be automatically transferred to the retired list. His entire army service has been in the Pay Department.

At the outbreak of the Spanish War, he volunteered for military service, and was appointed by President McKinley paymaster in the volunteer establishment. At the War Department, it is stated, he served in Cuba and in the Philippines from June, 1898, until February, 1901, when President McKinley appointed him a paymaster in the regular army, with the rank of captain.
